And finally, sometimes creating a question will also cause the subject to follow the verb. 2. A AB attentive to the prepositional phrases placed between the subject and the verb and immediately identify the noun in the sentence as the object of a preposition: an object of a preposition can never be a subject of sentences. Just click on the link below to do Exercise 7.a Just click on the lin all you have already learned, you will undoubtedly find this topic a relatively easy one! A"The verb in such constructions is obviously is or are. The subject is singular (Ranger and camper), taken together (joined by e), each part becomes part of a plural structure and therefore has to take a plural verb (see) to match the sentence. Here, identify the subject and then choose the verb that matches it (singular or plural). The difficulty is that some indefinite pronouns are solid in plural when they are really singular. Subjects and verbs must agree another in number (singular or plural). Therefore, if a subject A" singular, its verb must also be singular; If a subject is plural, its verb must also be plural. So far we have worked with compound subjects whose individual parts are either singular and the other A" plural? Overlooking the link below to exercise 4.
